Mr. Lunte, Brian Price, and Carol Other set up an experimental cell growth.

Nancy Trompeter and Mr. Lunte work with the microscope and slides.

MR. LOUIS LUNTE

For his participation in the affairs of both Lindbergh High School and the community, as an exceptional teacher of social studies, biology, and advanced biology, as the sponsor of the Biology Club, as an active member of the Science Teachers' Group, the past president of the Lindbergh Community Teachers' Association, and an enthusiastic and hard worker for the Washington University Science Fair, we, the yearbook staff are proud to dedicate this 1965 "Spirit" to Mr. Louis Lunte, a man who has unselfishly dedicated himself, since 1952 to the education of many Lindbergh students who have had the privilege of associating with him.

STUDENTS' DAYS BEGIN IN

After six classes two-thirty finally came.

There goes the lunch money again!

Even Juniors sneak into

VARIED WAYS

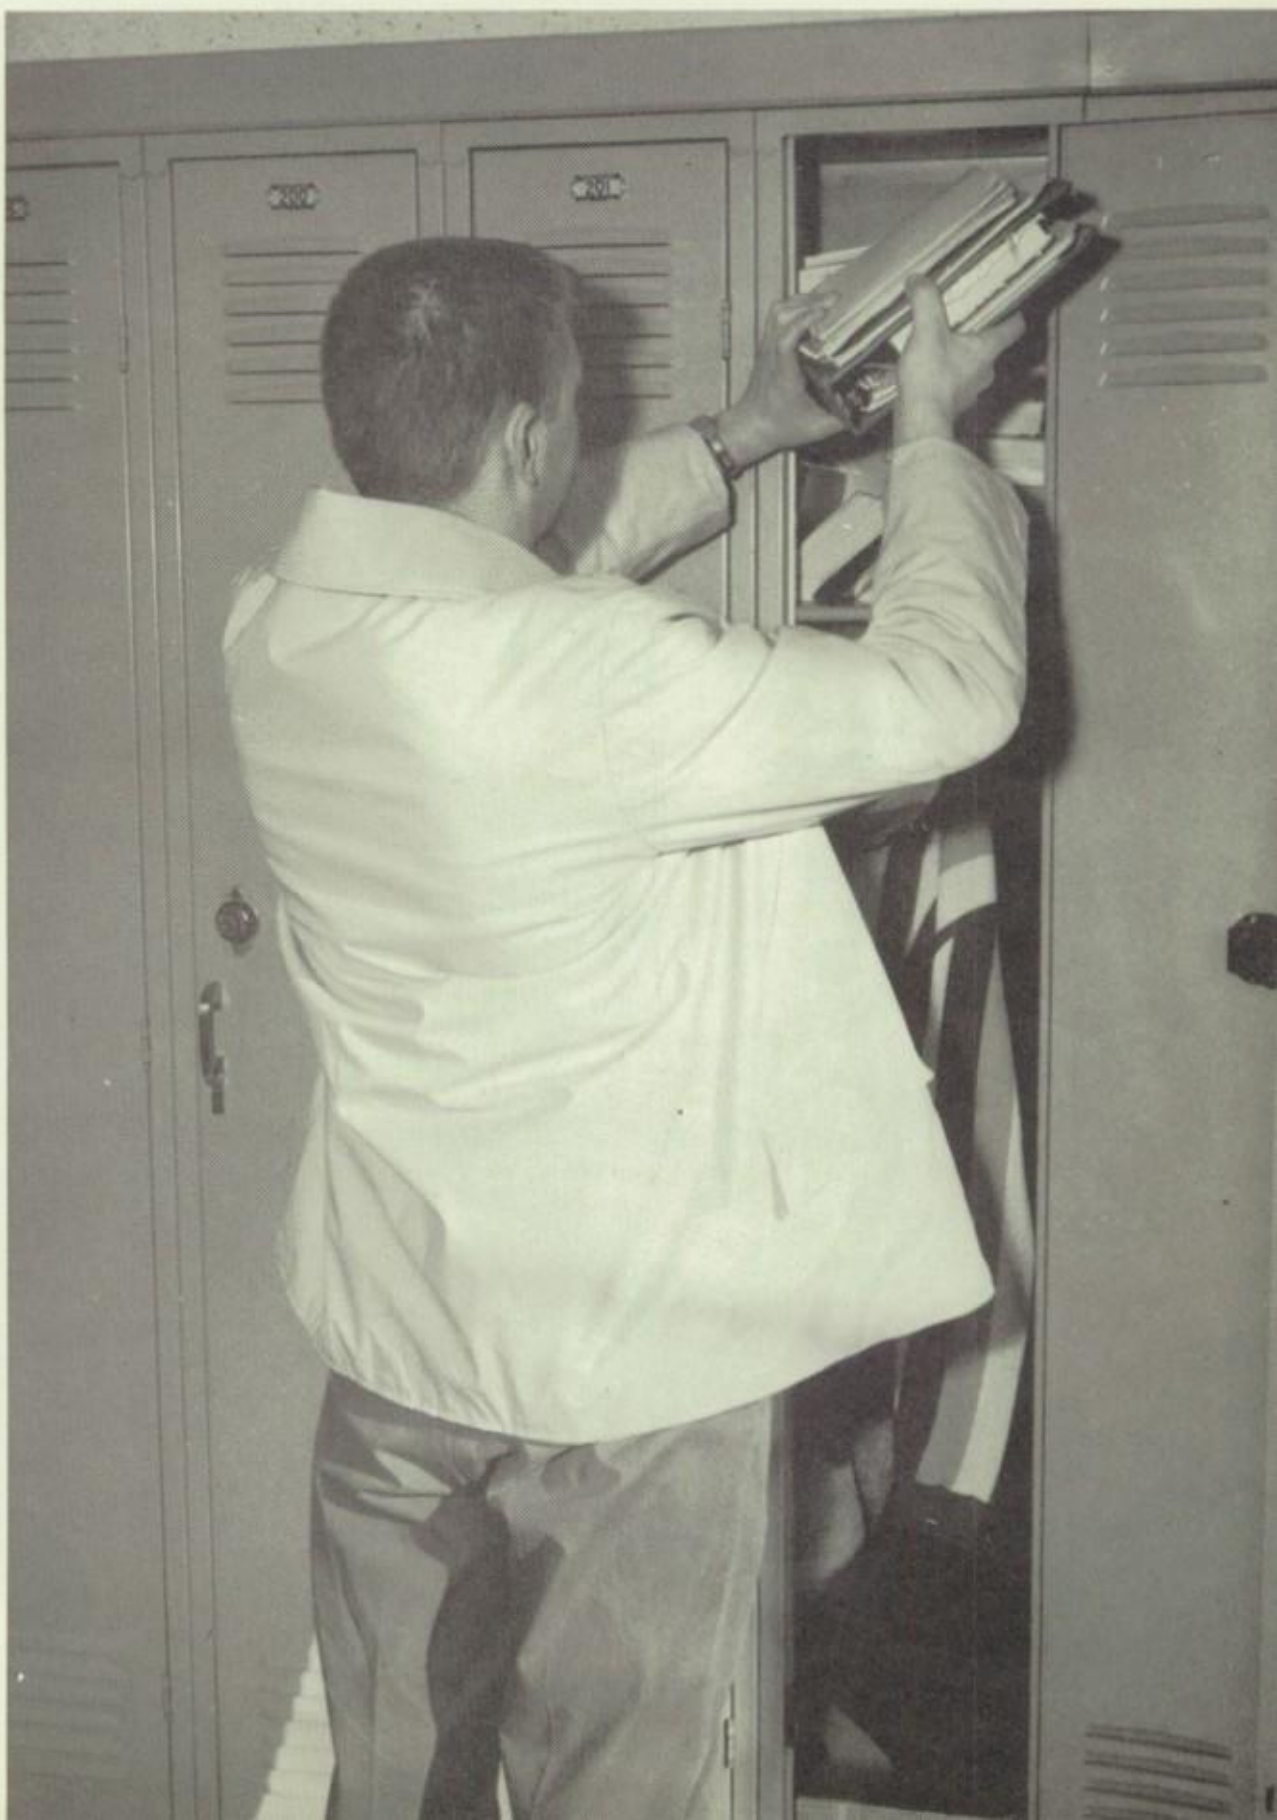

For some students the day begins by waiting in line for an absentee excuse, while others cram extra books into tightly packed lockers, chat with friends in the cluttered halls, catch up on last-minute assignments, or pay a fine on an overdue library book.

After a hard day of classes the halls are still the same, as students heave a sigh of relief and hustle for home.

The "excuse" line.

How many books can be crammed into one locker?

CLASSES PROVIDE CHALLENGE

Whether fitting a dress, painting a poster, or mixing a compound, Lindbergh students spend the major portion of time involved in the pursuit of excellence. The wide variety of academic offerings enables the student to prepare for his future whether for college or career.

FAVORITE STUDENT PASTIME

Regardless of the weather, students anxiously await the bell for lunch and hurry to the crowded cafeteria. After waiting patiently, they finally reach the head of the unending line. They make a selection from the variety of appetizing dishes, exchange greetings and money with the cashier, find an empty seat with friends, and enjoy a leisurely five minutes of conversation and nourishment before the bell rings for classes to begin.

Frank Lewis pays the cashier.

FLYERS ARE LIVELY ONES

Whether it's the thrill of receiving that long awaited yearbook, competing with other classes to heap the biggest pile of wood for the bonfire, blowing a note for victory, harmonizing with fellow classmates for the Hootenanny, or knowing the excitement of a Sport's Queen convertible ride, Lindbergh's life is anything but dull.

Sport's Queen Court--Shirley Patrick, Keren Riley, Sandy Nicholas, Sally Morrow, and Jan Biggs.

BIG YELLOW BUSES TRANSPORT STUDENTS IN SAFETY

Every day Lindbergh's fifty-four big yellow busses transport some 11,000 students to various schools in the district. From the school's three busses in 1951, the transportation system has grown to a $143,338 concern using 70,000 gallons of gasoline annually.

Truly, any student who has not sat on his imagination, had his feet trampled, his books scattered, or endured the ear-splitting shrieking of the swelling chorus of happy voices has not lived.

THE LINDBERGH

Mr. Quaker speaks about patriotism.

The Lindbergh Student Council is the center of school activities and is one of the most important organizations. This year, the twenty-eight elected members of the Council promoted an anti-smoking campaign, sponsored the Snow Queen Dance, and organized many assemblies. In late April, they conducted a successful Spirit Week which boosted school spirit and provided funds for next year's Foreign Exchange Student. Larry Teo from Malaysia was the Exchange Student this year. Lindbergh students can be justly proud of the accomplishments of this important campus organization.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The Honor Society consists of sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have been selected for demonstrating outstanding character, leadership, scholarship, and service. This year the Society conducted a tutoring service for students who needed help in specific areas. The National Shakespearean Company's performance of MACBETH, the Christmas tree for tuberculosis, the installation ceremony, and the tea for the new members and their parents completed the Society's activities for 1965.

The Quill and Scroll is an Honorary society for high school journalists who have done outstanding work on a high school publication.

ROW 1: C. Martin, W. Hughes, W. Gansner, S. Rabenau, K. Keller, J. Grebe. ROW 2: J. McKelvey, B. Bulman, N. Gerwiner, M. Voelz, J. Thomas, J. Bowden, C. Dickson, K. Krai, L. Schueddig, S. Strudell, L. Goodwin, J. Head.

THE "PILOT"

Putting a newspaper together is a complicated process. Assignments are made and on Tuesdays, Hamburger Night, the copy is typed and the issue is planned. Editors go to the printers to complete the final copy and proof-read. This year's paper, sponsored by Miss Vandergriff, has been Lindbergh's best.

Staff members admire the final product of their work.

THE "SPIRIT" STAFF

Writing copy and selecting pictures which provided yearbook woners with memories of the 64-65 school year was the duty of the "Spirit" staff. Long hours after school were spent drawing layouts for clubs, sports, royalty, faculty, and classes. Next, pictures were cut to size and pasted on mounting boards which were sent to the printers in Hannibal. When the proofs were sent from the printer, several staff members checked and rechecked them for possible errors. This year's staff worked diligently to turn out the best yearbook possible. Each page carries with it our sincere hope for its success.

Keathley, F. Lindgren, D. Beech, A. Baumhauer, J. Shadduck, H. Morgan, A. Brown. ROW 5: Mr. Tobler, S. Kelton.

Any student who has classes in the back building second hour has heard the band diligently practicing for the competition with University City, Maplewood, Ladue, and other local high schools. They performed at band concerts and many school assemblies. Under Mr. Tobler's direction the band received one A and five A / ratings for their performances. Lindbergh High is proud of their band and a job well done.

ROW 1: D. Blinzinger, J. Shockley, S. Quinn, A. Hall, J. Cornett, E. Hill, D. Bosso, D. Ficocelli, J. Erb. ROW 2: R. Frank, J. Bizer, D. Scheltinga, J. Bowden, G. Stephens, L. Bigings, T. Stibal, D. The A Cappella Choir, which is led by Mr. Reep, is chosen each year from those students who have a definite desire to sing and who wish to devote much of their time to practice for various events throughout the school year. The choir members sang for P.T.A., Honor Society Initiation, assemblies, and graduation. Several ensembles were privileged to sing for luncheons at the Flaming Pit restaurant and for church groups in the area.

ROW 1: J. Kehrman, M. Cassimatis, C. Kerlin, S. Cassimatis, M. Albert, L. Boyd, Mr. Beckert.
ROW 2: Mrs. Rasmussen, C. Intagliata, B. Nelson, B. Juengle, D. Schalingta, R. Rohling.

CAMERA CLUB

Hurrying in the darkroom to meet deadlines, camera club members develop photos for the yearbook and newspaper. They have also taken trips to Washington University's photography department, Todd Studio, and Forest Park for a picture taking session.

CHESS CLUB

Have you ever been challenged to a game of chess? Every Monday, chess club members gather in the library to match wits and skills in preparation for the Metropolitan Area Chess Tournament which draws avid chess fans from about fifteen schools in the area.

SEATED: T. Skinner, R. Holscher, B. Alexander. STANDING: B. Herbst, R. Rohling, Mr. Crews, J. Perry, S. Redel, K. Fulling.

Thompson, R. Blanner, D. Dietzel, R. DeRoode, J. Buchholz, D. McLaughlin, T. Gerson.

Gary DouBrava proved himself an outstanding president.

LETTERMAN'S CLUB

Membership in the Letterman's Club is open to all varsity lettermen who wish to promote school spirit, encourage good sportsmanship, and set standards for earning and wearing school letters. The boys show their success in sportsmanship and scholarship through ushering at basketball games and encouraging activities with teamwork and co-operation.

The Girl's Athletic Association strives to improve the health, recreation and citizenship of senior high girls. Synchronized swimming and modern dance clubs consisted of members who excelled in these fields. Other activities included intramurals between the classes in volleyball and basketball. The highlight of the year was the St. Pat Dance which promoted group participation as the preparations were completed. The G.A.A. girls chose Coach Lorch as St. Pat.

The Pep Club was responsible for inspiring school spirit. They handled the hospitality for the regional basketball tournament. By taking their share of responsibility, the Sports Queen dance was held under their management. To finish out their year's activities they organized the selection of next year's cheerleaders.

The Future Nurses of America had an active schedule this year. They gave a much appreciated Christmas Party for the patients at Gravois Rest Haven, attended Career Day at Veteran's Hospital at Jefferson Barracks, and heard a speaker from the Army Nurse Corps. The senior members were privileged to spend the day at St. Joseph's Hospital as their guests for Career Day.

F.T.A.

Promoting interest in teaching careers is the main objective of the Future Teachers of America. Many active members acquired a clearer understanding of the hard work that precedes each class by acting as teacher's aides. This year the twenty-five members made several field trips, saw a film on high school drop-outs, and visited Mehlville High School for the South County F.T.A. Workshop. In addition, the seniors observed classroom situations in Lindbergh elementary schools.

The Home Economics Club strives to improve social relationships. The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet again climaxed this year's activities. Other highlights of the year were the Globe-Democrat Fashion Show at Kiel Auditorium, the food demonstration by Laclede Gas Company, the Christmas party, and a guest speaker who talked about a career in home economics.

Mr. Henlon, M. Sauer, B. Jenicek, J. Eberhardt, R. Damhorst, D. Telker, D. Przygoda, D. Hogenmiller, W. Coffin.

RADIO CLUB

Would you enjoy being an amateur radio operator? The opportunity presented itself to the twelve members of the Radio Club as they constructed ham operating equipment, receivers, code oscillators, and developed teletype. Under the direction of Mr. Henlon, these students became skilled as they worked for the future.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

B. Lenz, D. Hogenmiller, L. Abell, Mr. Ried, R. Fugate, S. Starling, M. Heroux.

JETS

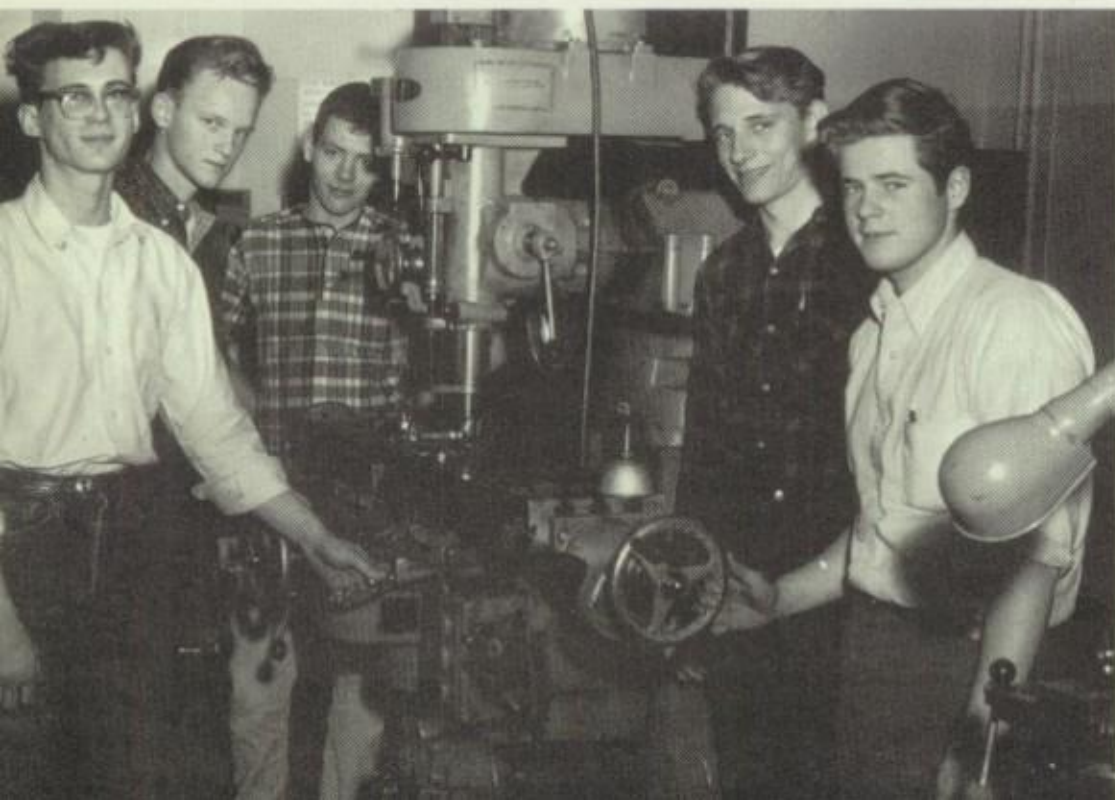

The Lindbergh Junior Engineering and Technical Society, commonly known as the JETS, was formed for the first time this year. The purpose of the club was to stimulate interest in architecture, engineering, and other technical fields. The Lindbergh Jets along with other clubs from over one thousand schools all over the country formed the National JETS organization. Club activities included several field trips. An architect and a professional engineer gave talks to the club.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL

For students with mechanical or secretarial capabilities, the technical school offered courses in the afternoon as a part of the regular school curriculum. There, office procedure, IBM machines, shop, and other training courses were taught to interested students. This school supplied the opportunity for vocational preparation for the future.

SEATED: J. Duffield, J. Bosler. STANDING: I. Twiggs, L. Stasic, G. Hanneken, L. Hertel.

DEBATE CLUB

Every Tuesday, members of the Debate Club could be found compiling ideas for the approaching tournaments. Mr. Le Faivre aided these students to develop skills in public speaking and logic. Our Lindbergh debaters matched their skill against that of others in the area, and when the points were tallied, they came up with a respectable 7-5 season.

SEATED: G. Potts, J. McCord, C. Hall. STANDING: P. Goldsmith, B. Heinrich, W. Gansner, pres., Mr. LeFaivre, P. McNeill.

SCHOOL STORE

SEATED: N. Stevens, N. Trompeter. STANDING: J. Hoelker, R. Kehrman, D. Roettger, J. Geter, Miss Miller.

Shelving books and maintaining an atmosphere conducive to study was the task of the Library Assistants. Books were catalogued, checked out, received, and if overdue, they were located and restored to the shelves. These people also spent a great deal of time helping students find material for various assignments throughout the school year.

OFFICE HELPERS

M. Cassimatis, C. Marrocco, A. Niermann, E. Lang.

During second hour these hard-working office helpers collected absentee slips and delivered information to the teachers. After they made their rounds, they tabulated the totals to aid the secretaries in the office. Their efforts proved helpful in making the office run smoothly and efficiently.

If a student needed pencils, books, paper, or any other school supplies, he might have been found purchasing these items at the Lindbergh High Bookstore. The students managed and efficiently ran the store before and after school and during lunch hours to serve the students' needs. The time spent taught them arrangement of stock, selling merchandise, giving correct change, and handling each buyer pleasantly and courteously.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

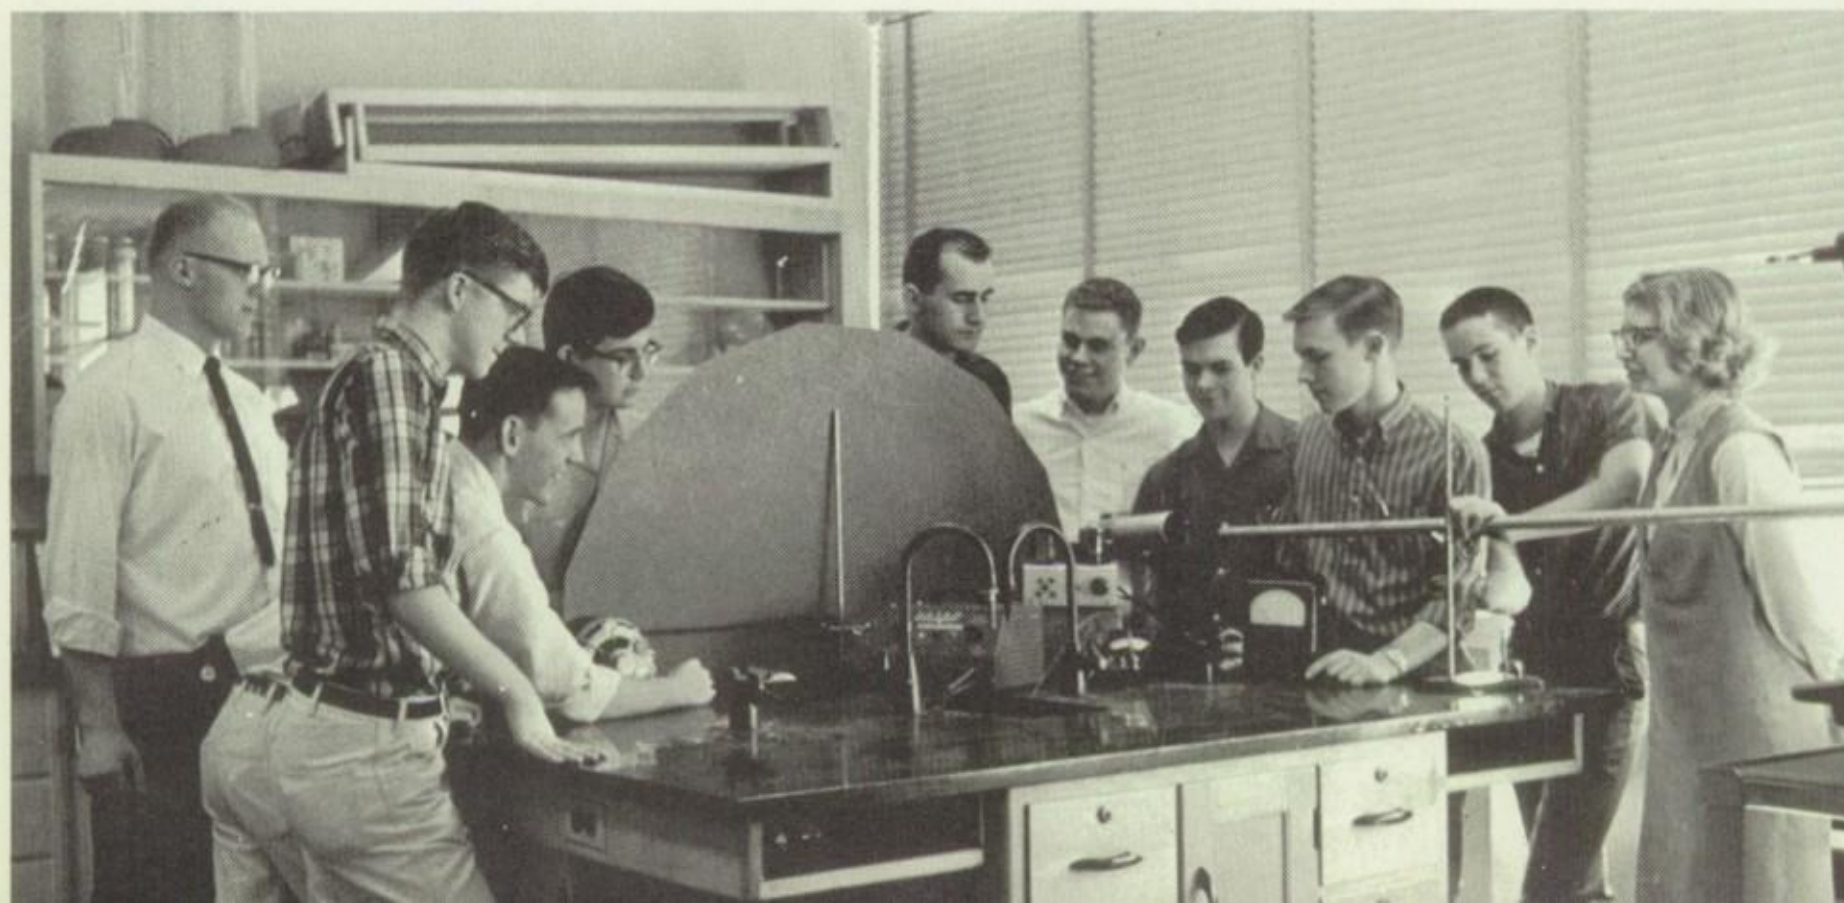

D. Knuth, Mr. Merryman, A. Neu, J. Schuette, G. King, N. Trompeter, J. Minarik, C. Snyder.

The Chemistry Club offered students the opportunity to improve their knowledge of this important branch of science. The club members performed many experiments and did extra work to heighten their learning and stimulate their interest in Chemistry.

PHYSICS CLUB

Mr. Horsly, S. Starling, G. Stephens, J. Perry, W. Ott, F. Meyers, L. Greenway, W. Lenz, N. McClure, A. Ferry.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Anyone who passed by room 205 on the second and forth Wednesdays of each month, saw members of the Biology Club intensely studying specimens under the microscopes. Besides working in our own Science laboratory, the club took field trips to the County Health Department and Veteran's Hospital, participated in the St. Louis Science Fair, and heard a lecture by Dr. Marco on chromatography and electrophoresis.

D. Hermann, Mr. Lunte, R. Livingston, C. Other, G. Blair, M. Cassimatis, M. Albert, N. Trompeter, D. Mulderig.

Can you explain the scientific phenomenon of a building where it rains inside but not outside? The Physics Club had to tackle this problem on their field trip to the new Union Electric Plant near St. Charles. They also took a Saturday trip to the MacDonald planetarium. Several members formed a symposium on Atomic energy. Under the guidance of Mr. Horsley, the Physics Club has inspired several students to choose Physics as their college major.

Baseball is a joyous game for Mr. La Faivre.

Mr. Thompson bats in a run.

ACTIVITY NIGHT

Activity nights provide an opportunity for students to use the school's recreational facilities. The most popular of these are the pool, the volleyball, tennis, and basketball courts, and the baseball field. Senior sponsors were the stars at the last activity night of the year.

Mr. Haeger, with a sample of his usual agility, slams the ball into the opposing court to score a point.

Seniors are great in every field.

GERMAN CLUB

Sprechen sie Deutch? If so, you are eligible for the extremely active German Club. The members started the year by participating in Lindbergh's annual Variety Show and ended it with their banquet. Other activities included participating in the Continental Breakfast and having a root beer garden at the Penny Carnival.

Latin Club sponsored a variety of activities throughout the school year which included two banquets and a booth in the Spirit Week Carnival. They also participated in the Continental Breakfast which was sponsored jointly by the language clubs. The highlight of the final banquet was a football game between the gods.

RUSSIAN CLUB

ROW 1: E. Erutti, J. Erutti, K. Helm, A. Neu, S. Mueller, E. Neu. ROW 2: R. Smith, Mr. Kremeninsky, D. Busso, A. Grieve.

Russian, a language which is becoming increasingly more important, has stimulated an active interest among students at Lindbergh High School. The members of the Russian club investigated Russian culture, customs, and practices to better their understanding of the language.

FRENCH CLUB

The Cercle Francais again promoted interest in France and her customs through numerous activities. They became a sewing club when they made stuffed animals for a charity project. Throughout the year their activities included guest speakers, a continental breakfast, and a booth at the carnival.

ROW 1 (Back to front): M. Dickinson, T. Schmiemeier, S. Springer, C. Robertson, C. Fantz. ROW 2: R. Minks, G. Schmiemeier, L. Schmid, D. Steffen, M. Bolliger. ROW 3: C. Hampton, T. Evans, E. SPANISH CLUB

This year, the Spanish Club was host to exchange students from Argentina and Spain. Their slides and displays proved very educational. Our exchange student, Larry Teo, talked about his home--Malaysia.

Customs of Spanish-speaking lands have been studied, and a Christmas fiesta in Spanish tradition was held. Another fiesta was sponsored by the end of school.

The club helped with the Spirit Week breakfast, and they operated a fortune-telling booth at the Carnival.

THE MASQUE

The Masque is one of Lindbergh's more active clubs. They have been continually busy since the initiation tea at the beginning of the year. The Variety Show, a Christmas party, carnival melodramas, and assistance for the Junior Play were a few of their activities. The highlight of the year came with the One Act Plays. With the varied roles available in the play, the members had a great opportunity to display their talents. The actors competed in spring competition and were awarded for their performances throughout the year at the annual presentation banquet.

"BALLOON HOLIDAY"

Many nights of long practicing went into this year's Variety Show entitled "Balloon Holiday." Acts from around the world were featured as the balloon traveled to such countries as England, Scotland, France, Germany, Malaysia, the South Sea Islands, Mexico, and even back home to our own Ozarks with the traditional hillbillies. The finale consisted of each act entering from the back of the stage holding helium balloons while the entire cast sang "This Land Is Your Land."

VARIETY SHOW

JUNIOR PLAY

This year the Junior Play revolved around the St. Louis Bicentennial theme as they presented MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS. A novelty of this production was that the play was performed in the "round" which allowed for easier viewing and greater attendance.

MISS SALLY MORROW 1965 SPORTS QUEEN

Pumpkins, leaves, gold, and brown transformed the gym into a fall setting for the first dance of the year. The Sports Queen Dance, sponsored by the Pep Club, was held on October 17, 1964.

LINDBERGH CROWNS TWO

Members of the court dance after coronation.

Crowd awaits entrance of the maids.

"This is one dance Jim and I will never forget."

QUEENS

"I feel like an uncoordinated ostrich."

"I don't think I will ever be able to express my feelings at this surprising moment."

SANDY REIGNS

The Snow Queen Dance whirled around Sandy Nicholas, the 1965 Queen. The theme was Heavenly, and the decorations were done by the Student Council in blue and white, with angel hair and snowflake; the perfect setting for Sandy's dream to come true.

LORCH ST. PAT

Everything is backward . . . The girl brings a corsage for her date, escorts him to the dance, and takes care of all expenses. A smart boy takes advantage of their new relationship and eats as much as he can at dinner afterwards.

Four boys, elected by G.A.A., formed the court and were escorted by outstanding G.A.A. members and officers.

This year's St. Pat's Celebration was especially lucky, for not only did it have four leaf clovers, horseshoes, and leprechauns, but it was also held on the thirteenth day of the month of March.

CAMELOT

PROM JUNE 12, 1965

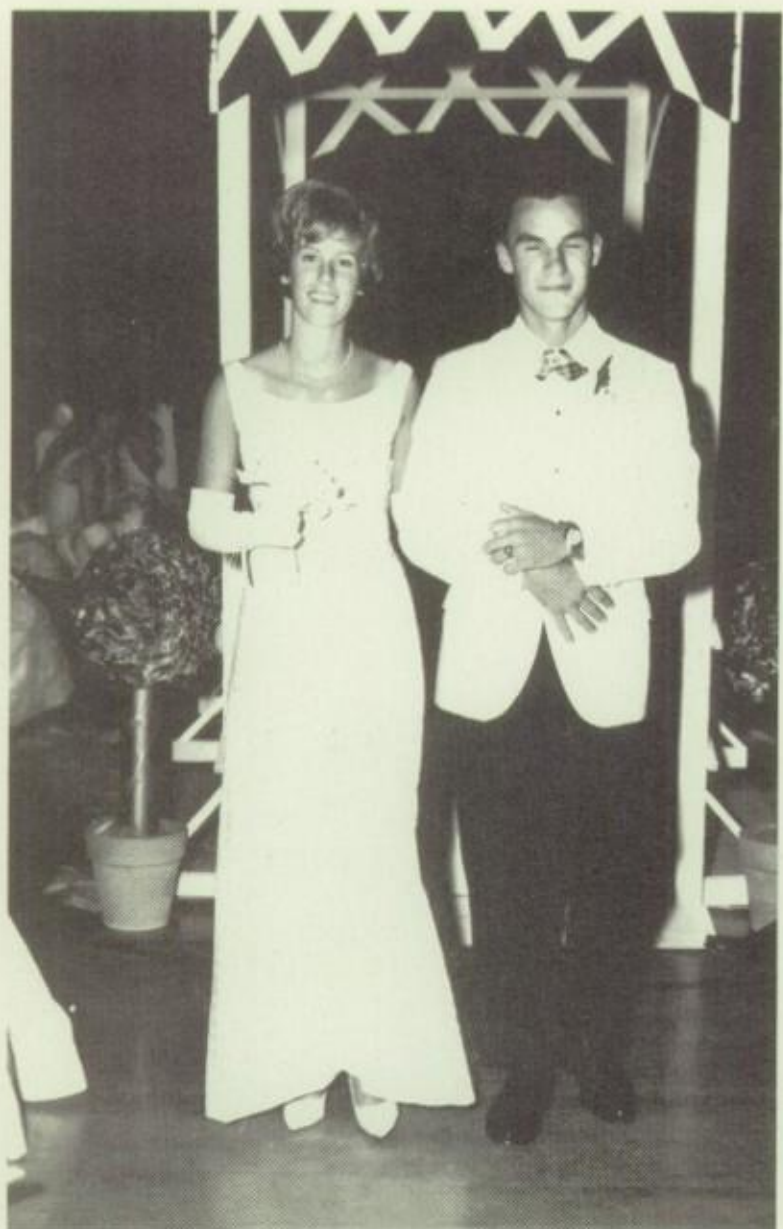

Castle walls loomed over the dance floor creating a medieval setting for the Junior-Senior Prom. A moon hung in the center over a quaint bridge. Royal colors were used. A buffet supper was held in the cafeteria. What a perfect climax in the 1965 school year.

FLYERS ENTER BIG TEN

The Lindbergh Flyers have come a long way since their first football game several years ago. Beginning in the Little Nine, moving on to capture Middle Six championships, the Flyers finally reached the top--the Big Ten. Opening the 1964 grid season 13-0 with a win over the Mehlville Panthers, the Flyers duplicated the score next week against Hazlewood. From this point on, Lindbergh was plagued with injury after injury, hampering the effectiveness of the first squad. A continual shift of player positions displayed athletic versatility on the part of the Flyers. Lindbergh coaches and Flyers look forward to a more successful 1965 season and the new South County League.

Co-captain Jim Thomas executes the butterfly.

IN STATE

State diving champion, Dale O'Brien, shows the excellent form which helped him obtain his title.

Again the Flyers came up with an outstanding won-lost record of 11 wins and only 3 losses. The victories were attained over St. Louis U., twice; CBC, twice; Principia, twice; Ritenour, Normandy, Ladue, Cleveland, and for the first time in the history of the school, the Flyers downed Clayton. The Flyers rounded out the season by coming in fifth in state. Anticipating another successful season, the Flyers elected Jim Thomas and Steve Eason to serve as captains for the 1965-66 swim team.

1965 FLYERS CAPTURE

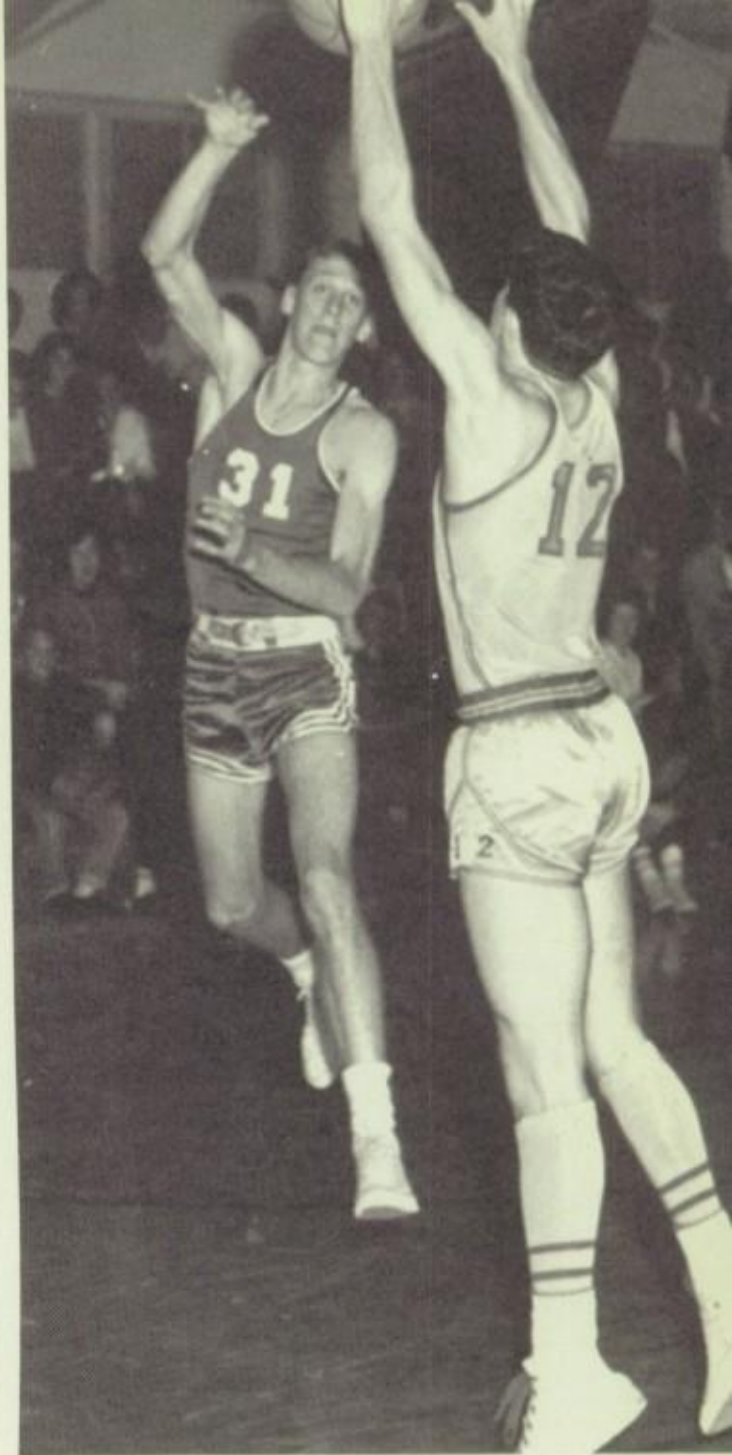

Lindbergh's 5 starting players, George Faerber, Gregg Melzer, Tom Kimberlin, Cliff Amen, and Jim Kelly lead the Flyers through a successful season.

THREE TROPHIES

The Flyers opened the season with five straight wins, plus a first place finish in the Affton Tournament. The second major triumph came as they captured third place at the Conference Tournament, downing University City and Riverview Gardens. Additional honor was obtained at the Regional Tournament held on the home court. Enthusiastic crowds cheered the Flyers to a second place finish. The season was capped with the naming of sophomore George Faerber as "Most Valuable Player," and senior Jim Kelly as captain.

Bob O'Brien passes the ball in the opening game against Bayless.

Gregg Melzer executes a lay-up shot in a tense tournament game.

Flyer's 52, George Faerber, stretches for a hook shot.

SEASON ENDS

Lindbergh adds 2, as Clif Amen leaps for a shot against Lutheran South.

Tom Kimberlin drives in for another Lindbergh basket.

Captain, Jim Kelly, dribbles around a startled Lutheran Lancer.

Flyers place second in Missouri State Regionals.

ACADEMICS

Our Principal and Assistant Principal have the best interests of the school at heart. They see to it that our school always functions smoothly, that the best teachers are provided, and that a curriculum is offered that will best prepare the students for college or a profession. They are one of the best reasons that our school ranks so high in St. Louis County.

LANGUAGE ARTS FACILITATE

As students delve into a study of other languages, they find a wealth of information about different literatures and cultures. This study brings the full realization that the ability to communicate in another man's language and the knowledge of his culture and customs are necessary if man is to achieve truly universal understanding and friendship. He realizes his responsibility to help reduce the linguistic and cultural barriers common in the modern world.

Our English Language is a tool in all our learning; it is the foundation of education. Lindbergh students learn the fundamentals of correct grammatical usage which are the backbone of effective expression and understanding. Students become acquainted with American and English Literary works to complete a well-rounded background in the study of the English language.

EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATION

While he explores the forces of energy, chemical processes, and living organisms around him, the materials of a science student are always near. His tools are an inquiring mind, a steady hand, alert eyes, and the more tangible instruments of glass and steel. Besides the methods and theories he learns in specific fields, he develops an inquisitive analytical attitude toward life and knowledge.

ELEMENTS, NUMBERS, &

After hours of calculation, correction, and frustration, the math student feels a sense of pride and accomplishment when he sees the right answer written clearly on the page. Accompanying this feeling is a realization of the methods and creative processes of quantitative thinking, and a way of looking at life through means of numerical relationships. At last, he masters these tools and is able to use them to solve challenging problems in the world about him.

Study in the field of social science supplies the student with the ability to understand fully himself and others. It gives him the means to adjust more completely to his social and physical world. The varied facets studied in social science--the group, the family, the history of many cultures, the economic theories and policies, government--are all integral parts of man himself.

The Fine Arts department of our faculty helps the student express himself in the many fields of artistic endeavor, such as sculpture, painting, ceramics, singing, music appreciation, dramatics, and speech. The art teachers work with each student so he may develop his talents and portray his feelings in his work. The music teachers help many students become proficient on a variety of musical instruments. They also develop the fine singing voices that many of our students possess. The dramatic teachers work with the students who possess dramatic ability, to help them better express themselves and get their ideas across to the audience. The speech teachers help students to become competent public speakers, by having them present practice speeches to develop their ability and bolster their self-confidence.

PRACTICAL ARTS PROVIDE

The Business Education members of our faculty present a curriculum designed to make students able members of the modern world of business. They teach a variety of subjects including typing, secretarial practice, shorthand, marketing and business law.

For the girls, Home Economics is offered. The Home Economics teacher helps girls to become good homemakers. The course includes cooking, sewing, and family relations.

MRS. HOPE LORCH, Home Economics I, II, III, Home Economics Club.

The librarians provide an extensive library for the students at Lindbergh, well-equipped with books pertaining to almost every subject. They are also ready and willing to provide help and guidance for any student who has need of assistance.

MISS RITA STEELE, Assistant Librarian; MRS. VIRGINIA IMPEY, Librarian.

CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT:

So that the students of Lindbergh will be capable drivers, the drivers education teachers work hard to teach students the rules of safe driving. The course includes both classroom instruction and on-the-road training.

As the graduates of '65 leave the halls of L.H.S. they will carry with them many memories. They will not quickly forget the experiences that they encountered in those three fleeting years. The timidity of their sophomore year marked the beginning of that upward climb. Participation increased as new experiences of bonfires and color days were encountered. The vivacity of their junior year displayed their true capabilities. As juniors they were industrious and active in all areas. Much time and toil went into the prom and buzzbook, and the junior play was the best ever. The anxiety of their senior year prepared them for the responsibilities of the future. Excitement, anticipation, hopes, fears, honors, and achievements filled their year. Although the bonfire was a little damp, school spirit burned brightly as the Flyers moved up to the Big Ten. The Variety Show displayed many hidden talents, and originality ran high on color day. The SAT's were not as trying as expected, and most managed English Lit. Seniors looked on with warm pride as juniors produced a "knightly" prom. Senior week personified the true spirit of the class of '65. Then as seniors donned their caps and gowns and began the graduation march, they envisioned that "it was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of foolishness, it was the age of wisdom . . ."

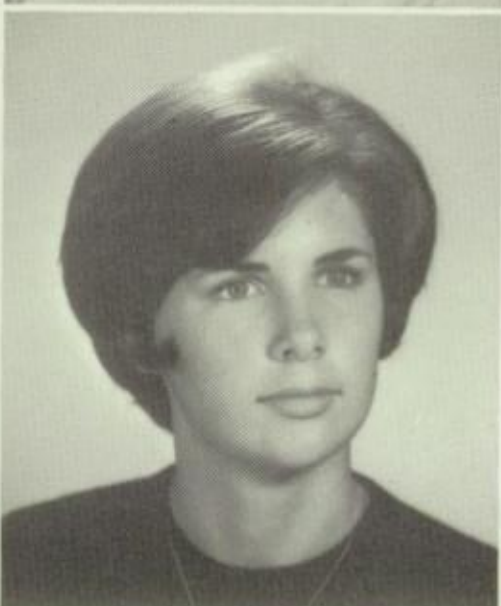

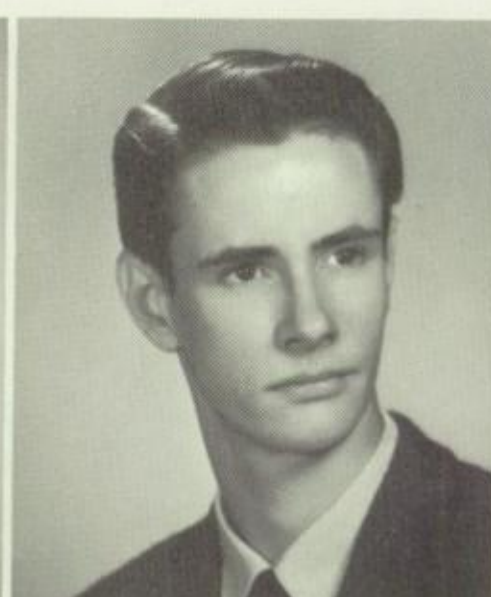

Class officers--Pres. Bill Gansner, Vice Pres. Gary DouBrava, Sec. Sally Morrow, Treas. Jay Grebe. Sponsor--Mr. Thompson, Mr. Haeger, Mr. Van Mettre, Mrs. Takach, and Miss Figge.
